AT THE NATION'S CAPITAL

Lee will Return to Havana at the End of October

HE WILL OPPOSE MR. MARTIN

For the Senate—Minister to Denmark and Consul to Canton, China, are Among Today's Appointments.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct. 5—Reports received here from Virginia indicate that Consul General Lee expects to return to Havana, probably at the end of the month. He does not expect, however, to be retained there through the administration. It is to be plainly inferred that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Martin and will make the race when the time comes.

General Lee is a gold standard Democrat, while Martin is for free silver. The race will be of national interest because Lee's success will mean that southern Democrats are beginning to leave the silver camp.

The New Minister to Denmark.

The President today made the following appointments: Laurits S. Stevenson, of Minnesota, to be Envoy Extraordinary and minister Plenipotentiary to Denmark. Edward Bedoe, of Pennsylvania, was appointed to the sonsulate at Canton, China.

Stevenson is a Norwegian and a great friend of Senator Nelson. He was a professor in the University of Minnesota and ranked with the prominent educators of the State. Bedloe was formerly counsel at Amoy China.

SPRINTED FOR SWEET LIBERTY.

"Didn't do Nothin' Boss, Jes Slapped My Wife."

Lewis Morehead, or Palmer as he is frequently called, found out yesterday that marital bliss is not always blissful. His better half having refused to honor and obey him, he felt it his duty in the premises to administer corporeal chastisement, out in the little suburb of Warnersville. His wife made complaint and constable Clifton drove out in a buggy and arrested him. On the way back, Morehead objected to going to quad in so much style, and made several attempts to get out of the buggy and was warned each time that if he did so, he would be shot. This tended to reconcile him to his triumphal entry, until he reached Sycamore street where his craving for sweet liberty got the better of his discretion and he made a break up that thoroughfare, by the Benbow. Constable Clifton was armed to the teeth with a 22 calibre revolver short, and he promptly levelled the weapon—in the air—and fired. At this supremely climactic juncture, Garland Daniel, of racing proclivities, came up on his silver flyer, and hearing the report and seeing the fugitive disappearing in the dim beyond, gave chase. It was what is termed a "dashing finish"—Morehead dashed into the back yard of Hugh Scott, where Mr. Daniel caught him. Morehead made no resistance when caught, but begged his captor to "leave him go," saying "I didn't do nothing boss but jes' slap my wife." Mr. Daniel however was obdurate, and Morehead is now behind the bars.

JUDGE PURNELL PRESIDING.

Federal Court Opened in the County Court House Today.

On account of the rather feeble state of health of our townsman the venerable Judge Dick, Judge T. R. Purnell, of Raleigh, is holding this term of federal court.

Court opened at ten o'clock this morning with a large attendance of lawyers, clients and witnesses present. Judge Purnell talked plain, common sense in his charge to the Grand Jury, which is composed of the following gentlemen:

J. M. Allen, foreman; Jacob Grimes, M. W. Paxton, Abram Reid, J. W. McAden, B. A. Johnson, A. J. Bolin, E. A. Tickler, D. W. P. Yates, John Lowry, R. L. Smith, J. M. Hester, J. M. Roberts, Ransom Cheek, Louis Miles, E. N. Brown, John W. Gantt, Jas. F. Slate.

Game Postponed.

The game of football that was to have taken place at Guilford College this afternoon, between the college and the Greensboro athletic association, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon, as a number of the players are unable to play.

Charlotte had a big blow out at the dedication of its new court house yesterday, Judge Hoke presided and addresses were made by various members of the bar.

OFF FOR WASHINGTON.

Bogart-Conrad Excursion Carries a Good Crowd.

About nine o'clock this morning the big Washington excursion pulled out from here with about two hundred passengers on board bound for the United States capital, the grandest city in America.

Mr. Bogart told us just before starting that advices from Winston indicated a crowd of two hundred or more on that division, and the early morning train from Mt. Airy brought down about one hundred. The train consolidated at Walnut Cove, numbered about six hundred passengers. We congratulate the managers on the favorable weather and large crowd.

The Date for the Guldensuppe Trial.

THE TAMANY TIGERS, TOO

Have Troubles of Their Own These Days

THERE IS BLOOD ON THE MOON

And a Probable Split the Outcome. Boss Croker or Boss Sheehan, Which?—Sheehan May Resign.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 5.—From the present outlook it would seem as though there will be a big split in the Tammany organization, over the question of leadership. Croker thinks that any body the Democrats may put up will be sure of victory, while Sheehan thinks it imperatively necessary to put a strong ticket in the field.

The fight between Croker and Sheehan will come this afternoon at a special meeting of the Tammany Hall executive committee. Sheehans friends advise him to fight against the nomination of Grady for district attorney, and declare that if the matter is put up squarely before the executive committee the decision of the majority of the district leaders will certainly favor Sheehan.

Sheehan announces that he does not see how Van Wyck, can run with such poor support as he seems like to receive, judging from present indications.

There is some rumor that Sheehan will resign the leadership of Tammany Hall, if he is not given a vote of confidence.

ROCKFELLER SUIT THROWN OUT.

Daniel C. Potter's Counsel Refuse to Carry on the Case.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 5.—The suit of Rev. Dr. Daniel C. Potter, the former pastor of the Tabernacle church, against John D. Rockefeller for $250,000 for malicious libel was dismissed today by Justice Gildersleeve, in the Supreme court. It was thrown out because Dr. Potter was unable to go on, as his counsel had withdrawn from the case.

PROGRAM OF REFORMS FOR CUBA

New Minister of Colonies Announces His Plans.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, Oct. 5.—Senor Moret, the new Minister of Colonies, says he will carry out the program of reforms for Cuba as he stated them in his Saragossa speeches. This program grants to Cuba a wider autonomy than the Sagasta manifesto contained.

Senor Moret declines to talk but he sent a long telegram to General Weyler last night.

The Ship Came Back in a Blaze.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 5.—The Baitish steamship Mayfair, from Charleston to Bremen, loaded with 6,900 bales of cotton, was towed into this port this morning with her cargo burning in a blaze.

The fire was discovered when she was three hundred miles out at sea.

To Open a Red Hot Campaign.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 5—The republican city committee is busy making final arrangements for opening a red hot campaign all over Greater New York. The committee is arranging to put scores of speakers in the field and to have meetings in every assemby district at least twice a week from now until the day of election.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Albany, N. Y. Oct. 5. The court of Appeals has decided against Riley Grannan in the case against the Westchester Racing Association. The case was an appeal from disbarment from the track by the board of stewards.

Boston Gets the Pennant.

Boston, Oct. 4.—The Boston baseball club received the pennant as national league champions at the Tremont Theatre tonight. Mayor Quincy cy did the presentation, and Manager Selee accepted the pennant on behalf of the club, the members of which, together with the Baltimore team, occupied all the boxes of the theatre. The building was crowded and the players received a warm welcome when they took their seats.

Blanco the Pick of the Flock.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, Oct. 5. — Premier Sagasta confirms the report that General Blanco will succeed General Weyler in Cuba. Blanco is considered the most kindly and merciful of all the Spanish generals.

SIX NEW CASES AND NO DEATHS

Will Send All Cases to the Hospital if Possible.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

New Orleans, Oct. 5. — The weather is much cooler here. There were six new cases reported up to ten o'clock this morning. There have been no deaths in the past thirty-six hours, indicating the extreme mildness of the disease. The Italian quarters are being ceaselessly watched and concealment of cases is no longer possible.

The board of health has decided to send as many cases as possible to the hospital, believing that the sickness can be more rapidly stamped out in this way.

The reports from Scranton, Mitta Yuma, are more favorable. No assistance is needed at those points.

GREENSBORO GROWING.

A Pointer or Two About the Flowery City.

One of our largest contractors told a TELEGRAM man this morning that since January 1st, 1897, at least 150 new dwellings had been or are now in course of erection.

This we believe is a conservative estimate. Now on this basis, allow four persons to the house, Greensboro has, up to October 1st, increased in population 600 people, in the short period of nine months.

If you follow this to its logical conclusion, taking into consideration the fact that the demand for houses keeps up and is increasing, and that three more months yet remain of this year, what will you find? Why, just this, and is a safe estimate, that Greensboro is growing at the rate of a thousand a year.

This is no boom, but a natural, healthy growth. Our city has just cause to be proud of these facts.

Question of Veracity..

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Oct. 5—News has been received here from Rome which contradicts former reports and says that the Pope is in excellent health. It adds that he takes daily walks in the Vatican gardens and that he merely suspended them because of the rainy weather.

AMERICANISM IN METROPOLIS.

THOSE of our citizens who have been wont to believe that so soon as a foreigner gets under the shadow of the stars and stripes he becomes an American, should watch attentively the mayoralty campaign in New York city. They will find in it some food for thought and some reasons to doubt the wisdom of their easy-going assumptions.

The one feature that has stood out more prominently than any other is that the tactics of the Tammany ring and the Platt ring are adapted to win the votes of men on the ground of their foreign birth. They cringe and trim to win the votes of men who cohere because they have a common foreign fatherland. The politician counts the "German vote" and the "Irish vote" and sets about winning it by appeals to German and Irish prejudice. There is to be no straight forward fight on principle but a miserable dickering with isolated groups of voters whose coherent principle is attachment to the customs of the countries from which they come; customs that are un-American, often subversive of law, and hostile to the spirit of our institutions.

The German voter is not in the least concerned about a clean and economical management of municipal affairs so he is allowed to swig beer on Sundays to his stomach's content, while the Irishman is pulled into line by promises of a place on the "force" or by putting on the ticket some "poor exile of Erin." The only candidates who stand for any principle whatsoever, are George and Low, and as matters now are, neither has the slighest chance of election.

New York is hardly more an American city than Bombay or Berlin or London or Toronto. It is unAmerican in its constituents and unAmerican in its spirit. The foreign born and children of foreign born number 2,500,000, two thirds of the city's population. There are 900,000 Germans, 850,000 Irish, 170,000 English, 105,000 Italians and 50,000 Scotch in Greater New York. Who will elect the next mayor? The Germans and Irish and English and Italians. And the price of his election will be the sacrifice of his Americanism.

Mr. Brann, editor of the Iconoclast, a periodical published at Waco Texas and noted for its biting articles, has been mobbed by the students of Baylor University. It was of course very reprehensible in the students to take that high handed method of dealing with Mr. Brann, still that gentleman has only himself to thank for it. He will hardly spend sleepless nights over it in anycase, as it has brought him considerable notoriety and that above all things is his desire. Men who constitute themselves critics of the Universe sooner or later run up against the wrong party. The next number of the Iconoclast, like the Hayseeder, will have a tendency to reduce the coal bill.

THE language used by the faithful when civil service is mentioned may be classed as decidedly uncivil.

THE annexation business having once gotten fairly under way, the stopping place will not be apparent. It is now said that some of the little Central American States are fumbling around for the latch string which Uncle Sam is supposed to have hung out. The reason of these attempts to crawl under the outstretched wings of the eagle is somewhat obscure. It may be that these poor unfortunates have heard of the Dingley tariff and the pension roll, and Mark Hanna's "persuasion" and have concluded that to exchange a birth right, more or less honorary, for a good, substantial mess of pottage would be a pretty fair business.

MR. CLEVLAND'S academic laurels lie so heavily on his brow that he will probably enter the contest for the New Jersey senatorship. He should remember, however, that as an appreciator of real estate, a senator is much less potent than president.

---

IT will be interesting to see whether in the "long and exhausting report" of his travels abroad promised by General Miles, he will term himself, in the Graeco-Turkish spat, an observer after the fact.

AT THE ACADEMY TONIGHT.

Miss Creighton and Her Company Will Play Romeo and Juliet.

There is coming here this season, a young star who as a child had many an experience such as our wise acres are fond of calling "the rough whacks which polish the diamond." She is Miss Bertha Creighton, who comes to us as the sweet and tragic Juliet, but her part in the following story was so different as to a most make one wonder how one could think of them both in a breath. A few years ago an opera company arrived in a town in the east, on the morning of the performance and it was soon discovered that the Prima Donna was ill. A stranger dropping in at the theatre would have seen the manager of the house, and that of the company deep in consultation as to whether to open the theatre at all that night, and on the stage a discouraged lot of chorus and principals trying to go through a rehearsal, and in the midst of this disorder, with a set serious face, a diminutive creature not yet in the dignity of ten years, struggling with the score of the "Mascotte." Little Miss Creighton had had the part only since morning and but one rehearsal was gone through. Some of the company demanded their fares back to New York so certain were they of an awful failure in the evening. Miss Bertha Creighton, the Betina, of that performance was so small that she had to be stood on a chair for the celebrated "gobble" duet, and when she comes on in the last act in regimentals it was almost impossible to find her, but not one note of the difficult score did she miss nor a line of the libretto.

From a comic opera soubrette to Shakespeare's Juliet is quite a jump, but Miss Creighton did not make it in a minute.

Press Comment.

Miss Bertha Creighton, who appears at the Academy of Music tonight, was recently in Norfolk, and we clip the following from the Norfolk Landmark after her play there:

The beautiful theme of "Romeo and Juliet"—the constancy of love—was a popular one long before William Shakespeare was born, as was, also, the story of "Romeo and Julietta." It was under other names, it's true; "Story of Two Noble Lovers," in 1535 for instance, but under whatever name, it is the same sweet story, and centuries do not wear away such sentiment. The production last night at the Academy of Music was one of the highest order. Under such interpretations as those given by Miss Creighton's company it is no wonder that the grand old tale grows, like wine, better with age.

Miss Creighton makes an ideal Juliet. She has ability, youth and beauty—three requisites for the role. There is a Duse naturalness about Miss Creighton that lends a sparkle and a charm to her work so rarely seen. Rarely seen because it is a gift, not an art.

So artistically done was all the work of this young lady that its a task to cite the parts in which she excels. One will say the scenes where she is begging her nurse for tidings of Romeo, which scene enlists the admiration of the audience. Another will say, it's the balance—where in her innocence she appears to commune with Romeo. In this scene Miss Creighton is a dream of loveliness and art. Shakespeare would not change an inflection, a gesture, an artifice of her conception of his Juliet.

The part of Mercutio, by Mr. Walter McCullough, was admirably done. His work was forceful and careful in detail.

Sagasta has undertaken to form a new Spanish ministry. Leading members of his party, the liberals, say Spain can never officially accept American mediation in Cuban affairs.

You will find THE TELEGRAM office in the Katz building down stairs, first door on the left, East Sycamore street, where we will be glad to see our patrons and friends.

In the item in yesterday's paper about the stealing of chickens from Aunt Fanny Bumpass on Piety Hill, the printer made us say "Poverty" Hill, and the proof reader failed to get a proof of the item.

Still they come—federal court people. We are told that federal court here now is not what it used to be when the Chatham, Moore and Randolph people were in this district. Truly there were "hot times in the old town" then.

Dr. H. T. Bahnson, of Salem, who went home yesterday from Asheboro, where he performed an operation for appendicitis, passed through this morning returning to Asheboro in response to a telegram that the patient was not doing well.

J. F. Jordan, of this city, has two fine trotters entered in the races at Norfolk this week. One of them—Calla Lily—for a purse of $1,000, the other, Sebaccic, a two-year-old for a $250. Calla Lily is in tne free-for-all and has a record of about 2:15.

The Journal says that Jailer Davis, is thinking of suing Evangelist Lee for interfering with his business in Winston. He says boarders at his house were never so scarce. THE TELEGRAM would suggest to the jailer to have an injunction issued, this suing business is going out of style. Injunctions are "the latest."

S. Otho Wilson, the "Grand Gideon," editor of the Hayseeder and deposed railroad commissioner who would not "depose," was here last night and went to Winston this morning to read proof for his paper which will appear Thursday. He reiterates his determination to make each issue a "warm number," and though frost may bite the flowers and the frog ponds be covered with ice pretty soon, the weather will continue warm for his corpulency, the Governor, and the huckleberry statesman from Sampson.

"OH! ROMEO, ROMEO!"

The Creighton Company Has Taken to the Woods.

"The rose by any other name will not smell as sweet" at the Academy of Music tonight. The fiery Romeo and the languishing Juliet have gone hence with a suddenness born of an attachment, legal, not sentimental; Tybault will be given a new lease on life and the balcony will be untenanted, ah, me! The company had been billed at some expense to appear in Fayetteville and having failed to put in an appearance the manager of the opera house there was preparing to attach its outfit here. The company got wind of the matter and instead of coming here took the train from Durham back to the Old Dominion where no horrid legal entanglements await them. No blame attaches to Manager Blackburn, of course, and those who have purchased tickets can have the money refunded by presenting them where they were bought. Greensboro was the farthest south of all the places where Miss Creighton was to appear, other engagements having been cancelled because of the yellow fever.

The news of the flight reached us too late to take out the press notices which appear on another page.

Preparing for the Opening of N. and I.

Already students are coming in at the Normal and Industrial college, although it does not open until Thursday. Most of the teachers have already arrived and everything is in readiness for the opening. Dr. McIver is expecting a fine showing from the beginning.

The testimony in the telephone rate case is so voluminous that the railroad commission will not be able to review it carefully before the next meeting. At that time the decision will be rendered.

From the best information we can get Cherokee and Clay counties have shown nearly 10,000 sheep this year up to date. Cherokee and Clay could have raised 100,000 sheep for the market just as easy.
